Creative works:

- Slee, P. T., Murray-Harvey, R. & Mitchell, B. (1997). Stressed out and coping in families. Video/resource package. The video depicts common sources of stress for families that have been identified in the authors' research and identifies personal, family and community resources that family members can use to help them cope. The 20 resource sheets are designed to be used by practitioners who work with families in a variety of settings such as teachers, community groups leaders, social workers, psychologists. Flinders University of South Australia, GPO Box 2100, Adelaide, SA 5001 Australia. Produced with funding from a Rotary Australian Health Research grant.

Murray-Harvey, R. & Hancock, K. (1992). Tough Love: An Approach to Democratic Schooling A video and viewer's guide scripted and produced by Rosalind Murray Harvey with Ken Hancock and Sturt Media Productions. Teachers, parents and students at Taperoo Primary School, Adelaide, show how personal, interpersonal and group skill development fosters a cohesive, cooperative school climate.

Cattley, G., Murray-Harvey, R., Farmer, E., & Slee, P. T. (2004). PBL: Problem-based learning Video/CD package. This package is presented as a staff development resource for tertiary educators interested in implementing PBL in their own practice. The material presents cross-disciplinary perspectives, based on the work of the authors in the Schools of Medicine and Education at Flinders University. It covers the issues of case writing (a booklet on case writing is part of the package); assessment; tutor training; the tutorial process. The video shows staff and students working in a PBL context. Scripted by the authors, produced and directed by the Flinders Media Unit. Funded by a Flinders University Innovations in Teaching and Learning grant 2003.

Student support materials:

Murray-Harvey, R. & Francis, M. (2000-2006). Reflections on learning and teaching: a professional journal. Produced as a workbook for B.Ed students to reflect on their on-campus and practicum learning. School of Education, Flinders University.

Murray-Harvey, R. (1998). All Sorts. A set of three pamphlets produced for prospective university students to provide information about life and studying at university. The outcome of coordinating a Flinders University Access and Equity project working with Special Entry students.

Murray-Harvey, R., Silins, H. C. & Orrell, J. (Eds.). (1996). Assessment for learning: A guide for academics. Flinders University of South Australia, GPO Box 2100, Adelaide, SA 5001 Australia.

Murray-Harvey, R., & Slee, P. T. (2000). PBL in teacher education: Just the beginning. Video/CD. This video overview the process of PBL in the tertiary classroom and follows a group of teacher education students' working through a case study from the introduction of the 'problem' through to the students' team presentation of their 'solutions'. Funded by a Flinders University Innovations in Teaching and Learning grant 2000.

CURRENT PROJECTS

1. Influences on Student Adjustment and Academic Performance: A Japanese/Australian Study. (with Phillip Slee (Flinders) and Mitsuru Taki (National Institute for Policy and Educational Research, Japan). The focus of this research is on aggressive behaviour, student and family stress, and bullying and victimization. Aspects of this research have now expanded to include researchers from five Pacific-rim countries (Australia, Japan, NZ, Korea and China) and researchers in Canada and the US.

2. Problem-based learning in teacher education.
3. Student Teacher Knowledge about Teaching and Learning (with Mike Lawson & Helen Askill-Williams)
